NOVEMBER 2017

FROM THE PRES-

It's not a dark and stormy night, but this might take me that long to get everything I want to say into this column. So, grab your comfy clothes, favorite beverage, cozy up in your most comfortable chair, and read. OK, not the latest novel or even the latest Super Chevy, but necessary information so as we don't have a three-hour meeting this month.

Every once and a while we come along with an idea that just makes so much sense we just must make it happen. So it was at the last CSF meeting of the minds at Barry's home. The committee went over all the pertinent information for next years CSF and then some. While we didn't solve all the world problems we did get a jump on organizing for the show. While there I expressed to all (the entire board plus one) the idea of starting a fund so that we could really legitimize our philanthropy efforts. I had already discussed it with Scott LaRiche and he thought it was the thing to do as well. With that I started the paperwork to do just that.

Tentatively called the LaRiche Family/ Eastern Michigan Camaro Club Community Fund, this fund would not generate enough to fund all our charitable giving, but it will add to each and every choice we make. Just $10,000.00 gets it fully endowed and every year we can add the gains to our giving or we can choose to give to other things. I have pledged $1000 and Scott LaRiche has generously matched that amount. If every member gave $100 we could fully endow this fund this year and start to have benefits as soon as next CSF. I know this can be done and the lasting (perpetual) benefits will insure that the EMCC continues to give back to our community long after we are all gone. I will have the papers for all to look at with me at the November meeting for review. Please think about what this will do for the name of the club as well as our relationship with the LaRiche family. I will answer any questions at the meeting that you might have on this.

Also, it was decided that the membership would choose between two charities at the October meeting after a lengthy dissertation by myself. Well you got a reprieve on the talk, but now you must read and do a little research on your own. Here are the two charities in alphabetical order, Stiggy's Dogs and The Fallen and Wounded Soldiers Fund. I have conversed with reps from both organizations and both are willing, and I think deserving of our support. So, go to each web site, learn what you can and be ready to make a decision at the meeting. continued >>

I will say that both reps spoke highly of their causes and both made a case for our support. Stiggy's Dogs annual budget (not fact checked) is about $200,000 to train 15-20 Veterans and Dogs per year. The FWSFs annual budget (not fact checked either) is approx. $750,000. Both serve Veterans from all over Michigan not just SE Michigan. Our donation would have a bigger impact obviously with Stiggy's but we could effectively touch more Veterans with FWSF. I couldn't possibly put all my thoughts in this column, and I don't think it would be fair to all if I did. I will answer questions at the meeting if asked. So, the choice is yours, we will vote in November. More information on each at www.fwsf.org and www.stiggysdogs.org.

Response to the Christmas Party has been great and we look forward to seeing all there. Get your reservation in early as room is limited to 40 peeps. Please RSVP to Kathy at mcdremel10@gmail.com or 734-718-2941. Should be a fun evening.

Don't forget about our plans to go to the Muscle Car and Corvette Nationals in Chicago on November 18-19th. If you want to join us please rsvp to Randy Martin or myself. I plan on driving and have room for 6 total. Response by November 10th is required to keep our hotel reservations.

And speaking of Mr. Martin, he has plans already in the works for the next Tour d' Missouri with the dates being April 27-29, 2018. Start your planning now, I know I am, and thinking again about a two-day excursion to and from the tour. Randy promises no rain this time!!!

Remember this months meeting is a week earlier to prevent interfering with your holiday plans! It is Monday November 13th at 7:30 sharp. The place is Rose's Restaurant 201 N. Canton Center Rd. Canton Michigan. Basically, the corner of Canton Center and Cherry Hill roads. Some of us arrive at 6-ish to eat, drink and converse. All are welcome!!!

Speaking of welcoming all, we need to give those members who always drive to our "side of the world" a little break and have a meeting or two "over there". However, not being from "over there" I have no experience with any venues to hold our group. That leaves it up to those of you of which I speak to come up with a venue. Work on it and let us know so we can drive your way for a change!!!

Regards, Snook OUT

EMCC MEETING REPORT

The October EMCC meeting was, well... a bust!! The weather was not supposed to be good. Turned out it was OK but only in some spots. Others got that rain! Several members had emailed they would not be attending and this was to be an important meeting to discuss several topics. Thus... the decision was made to simply cancel the day/meeting. We hope that maybe you still made it out to a cider mill on your own, on another day, to enjoy a nice Michigan Fall tradition! Hope to see you at the NEXT EMCC meeting!! ON MONDAY, NOV 13th!!!

FROM THE Vice-Pres.....

Referencing my last published summary of the Tour de Michigan, I can say again, that it turned out GREAT! Especially since we had three rookie teams taking on the task for the first time. So, what's next? Tour de Missouri, right around the corner. Think April, think Spring, think warm weather again and Camaros covering the landscape!! Make sure you hold open the last weekend in April and seriously think about touring the South next year.

The Tour de Michigan teams will most likely cover, briefly, our tour experience at the November meeting, so, if you have questions, stay tuned. Having said that, sure hope to SSSEYYA at the next meeting.

PUN(s) OF THE MONTH: 1) She was engaged to a boyfriend with a wooden leg, but he broke it off. 2) She was only a whiskey-maker's daughter, but he loved her still.

Hope to SSSEYYA at the next meeting. John, SSSEYYA

ORANGE MAKE A RETURN IN 2019

CamaroNews - Jaison Gonzalez
The long lost question? Will GM bring back the famous Hugger Orange from the 1960's & early 1970's. There has been some buzz for weeks that with the upcoming hinted Refresh, we might get some new colors. We have been hearing on and off from enthusiasts that they want hugger orange. We talked to many Camaro faithful and the result we got was 7 out 10 camaro fans want hugger orange to make a return. Ford has done it with many colors with large success in their sales figures. Now this photo pops up and yes we think its photoshopped, but boy does it really make you think how good it would look on the new Camaro and Camaro ZL1! GM & Team Camaro don't tease us like you did with krypton green knowing you were going to built it and you wanted us to beg, well we wanted to beg anyways. Camaro faithful if you really want hugger orange. It's time to start letting them know..... YES IT'S TIME TEAM CAMARO!! BRING BACK HUGGER ORANGE IN 2019!!

EMCC GOING TO MC&CN

Not sure what all the costs will be, but the show has proven to be a great time, really GREAT cars and fun to attend. Sounds like a great place to start CSF promotion as well!! If you are interested... contact Paul!!

WINTER STORAGE TIPS

All kinds of vehicles get stored for the winter, ranging from a convertible that's reserved for sunny days to a car or truck that's left behind when snowbirds head south. "Because cars and trucks were made to be driven regularly, winter storage - or any prolonged period of storage-can really take its toll, unless people take a few precautions to protect their vehicle while it's in hibernation," says Sue Elliott-Sink, director of content for enjoythedrive.com."

A little work now can protect a vehicle from rust, animals and other storage-related headaches." To help car and truck owners keep their stored vehicles in good shape, here are a few storage tips.

Get it out of the elements! No amount of precautions will protect a car that is stored outside where the sun, rain, or snow will beat on it day in and day out. Put it under a canopy or keep it in the garage.

Keep the fuel fresh. When gasoline sits, it can break down and form gum and varnish, which will clog a fuel system. What's more, any moisture left in the system can cause rust. The solution: Add a container of fuel stabilizer to the gas tank, then fill the tank to the top right before putting the vehicle into storage. The short drive home from the gas station will circulate the stabilized fuel throughout the system, keeping the gas fresh and the system safe until the vehicle is ready to ride again.

Don't let the cooling system freeze during the winter. Drain the system (including the radiator) and refill it with a rust-inhibiting antifreeze.

Change the oil. It's important to remove any acid, moisture and other contaminants from an engine by changing the oil and filter before putting a vehicle to sleep for the winter. It's okay to use the same-viscosity oil as usual, as long as the oil contains corrosion protection.

Avoid flat-spotting the tires. A vehicle that sits for a long period of time can ruin a set of radial tires. The best way to save those expensive tires is to store the vehicle up on jack stands. Some people also may want to remove the vehicle's wheels and tires—or let some air out of the tires to reduce strain on the shocks and other suspension components.

Keep the battery alive. When a battery loses its charge over time, it can freeze and explode. To avoid a dangerous mess, hook up a battery charger/maintainer, which will keep the battery properly charged, no matter how long the vehicle sits.

Protect the paint. Give the vehicle a good washing before it's put away for the winter to remove any road salt or grunge, and be sure to dry it thoroughly, too. Then apply a protective coat of wax. Finally, slip on a breathable cloth car cover. (Plastic covers will trap condensation & provide a fertile breeding ground for rust)

Check the insurance. Just because a vehicle is sitting undriven doesn't mean liability coverage is unnecessary. What if someone pushes the car, and it winds up rolling down the driveway and into the neighbor's brand-new Mercedes? Collision and theft coverage can be important, too.

Prevent rust. Unpainted metal surfaces, from engine parts to tailpipes, can use a good coat of rust inhibitor.

Protect vinyl, leather and rubber. If the vehicle will be stored in a dry climate, it's wise to apply a preservative to prevent seats, armrests and dash pads from cracking.

Provide critter protection. All kinds of small animals find vehicle wiring, seats and carpet delectable, and they think cars and trucks make a nice den, too. To keep critters out, place mothballs inside a vehicle, including under the dash, and cover the tailpipe. Or, for total protection, store the vehicle inside a cocoon that seals it completely from the elements.

Store convertibles with the top up. Convertible tops can actually shrink if they are left in the down position for an extended period of time.

CAMARO HOT WHEELS EDITION OFFERS FULL-SCALE FUN

Fans can purchase life-size Hot Wheels Camaro beginning in spring 2018 EL SEGUNDO, Calif. – Chevrolet and Hot Wheels today announced the 2018 Camaro Hot Wheels 50th Anniversary Edition, celebrating 50 years of partnership, performance innovation, and design.

The commemorative package pays homage to iconic Hot Wheels features including a Crush exterior color and stripes that replicate the toys' famous orange tracks. The $4,995 package, available on Camaro 2LT and 2SS coupe and convertible models, goes on sale the 1st quarter of 2018.

"The Chevrolet Performance design studio is full of designers who were inspired by Hot Wheels," said Tom Peters, director of Exterior Design for Chevrolet Performance Cars. "The Camaro Hot Wheels 50th Anniversary Edition captures that passion, turning childhood fantasy into reality."

Camaro and Hot Wheels have pushed the boundaries of design and performance for 50 years. The 1967 Camaro offered a distinctive design with available hidden headlamps and a front sub-frame that enhanced responsiveness and refinement. In 1968, Hot Wheels elevated the performance of toy vehicles with wide wheels and low-friction axles, designing them to be the fastest toy cars on and off the track.

"In the 1960s Hot Wheels and Camaro challenged vehicle design by elevating the speed, power, and performance of both die-cast and pony cars alike. For 50 years, both brands have developed high-performance cars that embody the challenger spirit." said Chris Down, senior vice president and Global Brand GM, Hot Wheels. "We're thrilled that fans can now experience the essence of Hot Wheels in this special edition Camaro."
